

DESDEMONA

by Paula Vogel

a play about a handkerchief

Was Desdemona really so innocent?
Were Shakespeare's women really prisoners of their class?
Take a look behind the scenes and decide for yourself.

On stage:
Sue Hansen-Styles, Angela Heath-Larsen (last seen as Virginia Woolf and Vita Sackville-West, respectively, in "Vita and Virginia" at Café-Teatret) and Lindsay McGill

Directed by Reumert-winner Barry McKenna
Bådteatret, Nyhavn, Saturday 14th - Saturday 28th April, 2012
(Mon – Fri 8pm, Sat 5pm)
